What is My Background?

Lillian Bjorseth has been in the communication business her whole career. She's a top graduate of the University of Missouri School of Journalism. Stints in public relations include Nicor Gas where she did executive speech writing and investor relations. At AT&T she helped spearhead worldwide public relations for the company's foray into computers. She got her first taste of branding and coaching as she helped mold the man who started computer systems from an engineer into a keynoter. In 1990 Lillian started Duoforce Enterprises, Inc. (DEI), and also founded and for 10 years owned Better Business Contacts, a division of DEI. The Chicago Tribune calls Lillian a networking expert, and the Association Forum of Chicagoland calls her the business networking authority. She's among the first in the world to earn a certified DiSC® trainer designation from Inscape Publishing. She's co-founder of the highly successful Great Chicago Networking Extravaganza. She was named one of the Great Women of the 21st Century.

What Does My Company Do?

I help people nationwide build high-value relationships by improving their communication and business networking and development skills. I work with corporations, organizations and CEOs on down as a professional speaker, in-house trainer, skills coach and author.

How Can I Help You?

Do you want to: 1) Polish your professional presence, be more confident and in charge of what you say before you speak? 2) Network strategically and know what to do before, during and after you work at event? 3) Overcome the Number One Fear in the world? 4) Benefit from a creative, powerful Verbal Business Card? 5) Understand why you and others naturally behave the way you do and how to adapt and flex to "close the deal" no matter your level or field?
